WILLIAM DUBIN: BIOMORPHIC SCULPTURE

Biomorphic Sculpture from the 1960s

ABOUT

These Biomorphic Sculptures in exotic hardwoods were created by William Dubin in the 1960s, and exhibited at Jim Newman's influential Dilexi Gallery in San Francisco. They are no longer extant, having been destroyed in shipping. These photographs by Steve Sokol are the only record that remains of these historic works. They were recently featured in the book Dilexi: A Gallery & Beyond, by Laura Whitcomb of Label Curatorial.

“If you ask me what I came to do in this world, I,
an artist, will answer you: I am here to live out loud.”

– Émile Zola
